

This past weeks happenings:

We're still (STILL) harvesting blueberries! If you have not seen the blueberry bushes, you should ask for a tour! They're beautiful and covered in fruit! The kids have fun plucking blueberries from the bushes, and we're still getting ready for the Big Blueberry Breakfast!

Science Camp has been super fun. Ask you're kids about why we wash our hands, how to make silly putty, or what a vortex looks like!

Cookie Decorating Day, School Shirt Day, and Pizza Day are TOMORROW!!

Also, please don't forget that tuition is due on the first of each month!

Don't forget that there is NO SCHOOL ON FRIDAY, JULY 3rd! We wish you all a wonderful and safe Independence Day!

Next weeks happenings:

We're getting ready to start Soccer Camp this next week! The school has some new soccer balls, and kids are excited! We're going to work on gross motor skills and sportsmanship!

As always let us know if you have any concerns. We're going to be careful and drink lots of water. Please have your kids wear appropriate shoes for playing soccer.

Student of the Week!

We're recognizing one student per week for the wonderful things that they say and do! Please tell your kids about it so they can get excited too!

This is Cohen making Silly Putty!

Cohen VanSant

It's not always easy to adapt to new changes. In Montessori Schools the children thrive on organization and order, but with the skills and confidence that they learn, they become more comfortable with changes.

This week, we have had new faces (our Science Camp volunteers), some changes in the schedule, and new activities each day! Cohen has been getting more involved with Science Camp each day and shown real enthusiasm for the Science Camp activities! He was so excited when his mom picked him up from school that he exclaimed, "This is silly putty, and it's sticky!" He's loving science and adapting to changes, and for that, he is a Montessori Superkid!
